Farmers Union Insurance Agency Sponsors MFU Memberships to Ag Teachers Statewide

St. Paul, Minnesota (March 26, 2015) – Farmers Union Insurance Agency recently sponsored close to 400 Minnesota Farmers Union Memberships for the High School Agricultural teachers throughout the state of MN.

“Farmers Union Insurance Agency is proud to be able to sponsor the memberships for a very important group of people at our schools. We have always had strong support for FFA and 4H, and appreciate the influence that the Ag teachers in the schools have on young future leaders in agriculture.”

From sponsoring 30 FFA blue jackets, and constant support at the 4H auctions, Minnesota Farmers Union and Farmers Union Insurance Agency have a long standing history of supporting the youth of agriculture.

“In the classrooms stand the future of agriculture, and guiding them down the path to a strong future in agriculture are the Ag teachers who do so much work, yet don’t get recognized enough” states Minnesota Farmers Union President, Doug Peterson, “Every opportunity we have to support our youth should be taken, and we greatly appreciate the sponsorship by the Farmers Union Insurance Agency and their support for the Ag teachers of Minnesota as well.”

Farmers Union Insurance Agency intends to make the sponsorship a yearly contribution for the Ag teachers throughout the state.
